

Coyote or Dog?

Many dogs have been mistaken for coyotes or even deer and shot.

Be sure you know what you are aiming at before you shoot.

Coyotes have bushy gray fur.

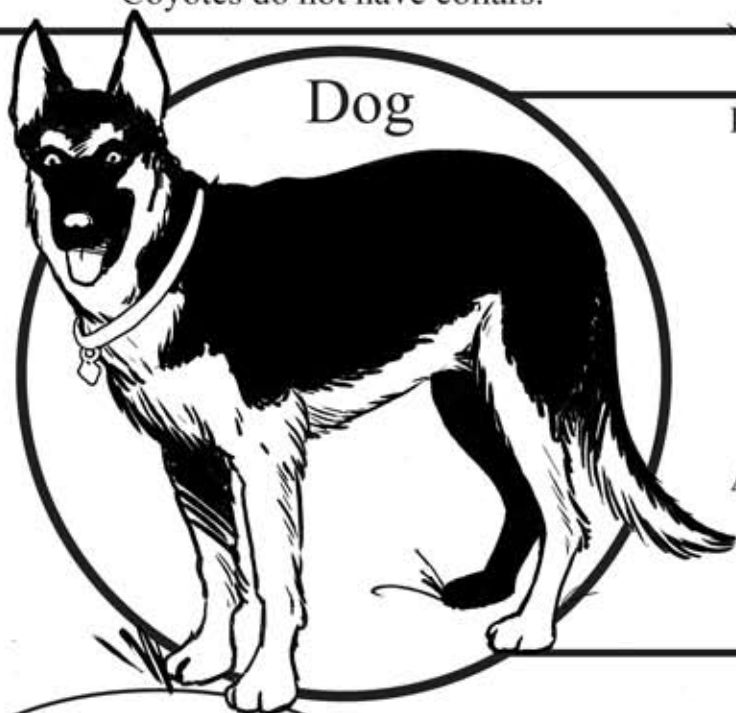

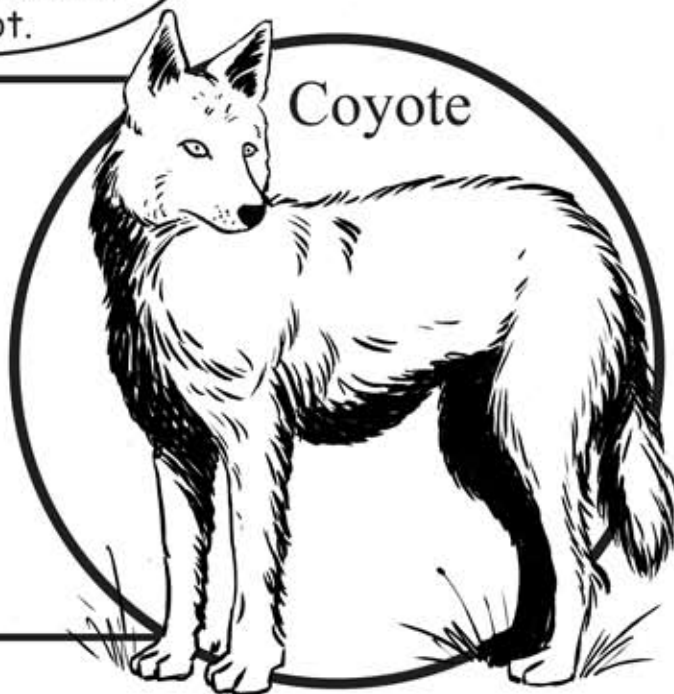

Coyotes usually come out at night.

Coyotes tend to hunt in pairs or packs.

Coyotes usually make high pitched howls and yips.

A coyote's tail is bushy on all sides.

Coyotes do not have collars.

Dog's fur can be any length and any color.

Dogs usually come out during the day.

Dogs can travel alone or in pairs.

Dogs usually bark instead of howl.

A dog's tails can be any length but usually are only furry on the underside.

Most dogs wear collars.

Never approach any animal that you find in the wild.

Domestic dogs might bite if they become sick or wounded.

There are also wild dogs that live and act like coyotes.

